To Whom It May Concern,

I am very concerned about the current regulations allowing for a higher concentration (by 14 x) of particulates than the California Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment has deemed safe for 1,3-D. I am especially concerned because this chemical is carcinogenic and it is applied in farming areas that are poor, Latino or both so those are the populations that will be most exposed.

I am sincerely hoping this agency will understand the outrage that this, rightfully, is causing in our communities and will reduce deductible fumigant levels to that which has been scientifically deemed safe - .04 parts per billion.

I expect this agency to take this matter seriously since the people affected most grow the food we all need to live, we owe them our gratitude for their hard labor, not higher rates of fumigants.

Thank you for receiving this communication.

Sincerely,

Marceya Kagan
