DPR: I would like to call your attention to an article I just read by Yanel Martinez titled "DPR wrong on cancer-causing pesticide 1,3-D"
She is a Greenfield City Councilmember and Organizer for Safe AgSafe Schools / Californians for Pesticide Reform.

She urges that this substance be regulated to keep us from breathing more than 0.04 parts per billion. It is disgraceful that this falls most heavily on Latino farmworkers in nearby fields. Why? Just a few months earlier the California OEHHA listed the safe harbor levels for such substances to be 0.04 parts per billion. Are their lives worth less than your own?

Please investigate this situation immediately! Thank you very much for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Myra Morris
